DEDICATION

On a cold and clear night, back in 2019, a remarkable production of "It's a Wonderful Life- a radio play" happened in this very theater. We didn't know at the time that we would lose four dear souls at some point after that special evening. If we close our eyes, we can still hear their laughter and see their smiles. We would like to dedicate this production to our angels,
Robert, Lilianna, Pam,
...and our Gina, whose bright light can never be dimmed in our hearts.

Robert Nissen
Lilianna Dzierawski
Bob adapted "It's a Wonderful Life" for PWPT and Lilianna was a costumer and performer.

Gina Farasciano
Gina performing in the 2019 production of "It's a Wonderful Life". We are honored to have received a grant from HEARTS PW in her memory.

Pam Meadows
(with her beloved Ron)
Pam was the director of the 2019 production of "It's a Wonderful Life" and the Artistic Director for PWPT.

– IT REALLY HAS BEEN A WONDERFUL SHOW..... –

This is a very special project for me for so many reasons. I loved working on "It's a Wonderful Life" in 2019 and watching that magical company. I have so enjoyed working with this cast, which has been exceptional in every way. Their talent, camaraderie and sheer joy are an inspiration. I hope they inspire you to spend some more time with Port Washington Play Troupe, perhaps on the stage or behind the scenes... or simply by attending performances. This is YOUR historic local community theater. Enjoy it!

Stephanie Hall

It's a treat to be doing this production with both old and new members. I'm looking forward to the group growing and thriving. To many more productions in the future!

David Barnett

We want to take a moment to reach out to everyone that came to our little holiday production with an appeal. In many ways, Port Washington Play Troupe is just like the Bailey Building and Loan. We are sustained by the Port Washington community, so won't you please consider making a donation? We gratefully accept gifts of all kinds. You can donate your energy and talent (on stage or off). You can attend our shows or join us in building a vision for our future ...or you can just make a financial donation to help keep the oldest community theater company in New York State afloat.

We need you and we will welcome you to our merry band of volunteers. All of us at Port Washington Play Troupe wish you and your family a wonderful holiday season. May the glow of seasonal candles shine bright through the darkness, illuminating your homes and hearts with peace and joy.

PORT WASHINGTON PLAY TROUPE

Linda Pollack Ives as Peter Pan in 1957. Linda flew at an estimated 20 miles an hour across the Weber stage. It retained such notoriety, that famed actress (and Peter Pan star) Mary Martin sent her secretary to see the production, as she was curious how a local community theater company was able to engineer the "flying apparatus"

Play Troupe was founded in 1927 by a group of self-described "careless artists, with an utter disregard for tradition and custom." They staged their first production in the Parish Hall at St Stephen's Church which has partnered with Play Troupe throughout its history.

What followed were decades of high-quality community theater, produced in every available auditorium, church, gymnasium and unsuspecting open space in town!

Over the years, Play Troupe's industrious members founded a wide variety of programs that all operate under the company's non-profit umbrella. These programs included inter-generational children's shows, musicals, straight plays/classics, live-broadcast radio dramas, and even a behind-the-scenes- theater discussion series.

In the mid 1990s, nearly all of Play Troupe's programs fell into inactivity. But in 2012, in celebration of the company's 85th anniversary, both old and new members rallied together to revive Port Washington Play Troupe for more generations to enjoy. The revival, and Play Troupe's ongoing programming, has enjoyed the generous support of the Peter & Jeri Dejana Family Foundation.

The company produced robustly until (and even through) the COVID-19 pandemic, including streaming productions. It then went dark briefly again following the passing of longtime President and Artistic Director Pamela Meadows in 2021. After a year-long search for new leadership in 2022, the company announced a new Board of Directors in 2023.

The company is now back in production, looking forward to celebrating its 100th anniversary in 2027!
